Selling your rare coins, collectible currency and precious metals can be very straightforward and non-complicated, regardless of quantity.

Precious Metals

As a precious metals dealer and broker, we maintain a fair, two-way market every day. We are just as happy to purchase metals from you, as to sell metals to you. The buying prices, like the selling prices, are based on the world spot metals' market prices, and change all throughout the day. Early morning trading is done using the London morning price fixes, and late day-evening trading is the Pacific Rim/Hong Kong pricing. Prices are constantly updated all throughout the trading day, and our satellite-fed price information systems can update as often as every 5 or 6 seconds. When you get our buy or sell quotes, they are based on up-to-the-second pricing, and are subject to change until a transaction confirmation is written in our office.

Rare Coins & Currency

The collectibles market is vibrant and dynamic. As a national buyer, we stay up to date with current market pricing and can purchase all of your items, not just "cherry-pick" better items. From Half Cents to Gold Coins, we buy it all.

Some Items We Buy:

- United States & World Coins

U.S., Obsolete, Confederate & Foreign
- Precious Metals
Any items made of
